Other:
Stena has been implemented and feedback from staff has been positive. Jennifer O’Neill has been managing the inventory.
Invitations have been distributed for the fundraiser. Currently, the library has 12 baskets and is in need of several more. The library has $1,450 in sponsorships and $375 in donations. This is in addition to the $1,250 the Friends have pledged to match.

The strategic planning survey has been distributed. It is also available online until tomorrow. The library has received 100 survey responses so far. The strategic planning focus groups are tentatively scheduled for patrons on the evening of November 14 and for staff on Wednesday, November 15 from 8:00 am to 9:30 am, pending the consultant’s return from medical leave. He is unavailable for the Board focus group on the requested date of October 17. November 4 was proposed as an alternative date. The Board should plan on the group discussion to last 1.5 to 2 hours.

Beginning October 1, our OverDrive Advantage eBooks will be shared with other CLEVNET libraries who participate in the program. This means that the titles the library purchases in addition to the shared CLEVNET collection will now be available to other cardholders, but our users will have priority on holds. Conversely, our patrons will have access to holdings from other libraries. Metered titles are excluded from the sharing program.

Community engagement: During the last month, the library presented local history programs to the River Styx Historical Society, Barberton Rotary, and Barberton Kiwanis. Also, the library had activities at Magic Mayhem on Friday night, September 1, took the pop-up library to Labor Day at Lake Anna on September 2, and visited the BHS nursing students for the annual orientation to CHL and health information. The Children’s Department started up annual service to Barberton Head Start and recently set up a schedule to make a weekly visit to Barberton City Schools Preschool. Initially, they are just visiting each classroom on alternating weeks for story time. We’ve also extended the summer Mommy/Daddy and Me story times into the fall (indefinitely depending on staffing).

Staff continuing education: Mary Kay Ball attended an Ohio Health Sciences Library Association grant writing workshop. Melissa Futrell viewed online information from ALA called “Violence Prevention in the Public Library”. Jennifer O’Neill attended the CLEVNET/Overdrive Advantage Plus Meeting. Dia Thomas attended Booklist reader’s advisory webinars (Sci-Fi/Fantasy books and romance audiobooks). She also participated in Library Journal’s “Selecting Adult Debut Fiction with Confidence” and viewed active shooter training online.

Cornelius stated he had visited five wood working shops to obtain potential donor display makers. He received two quotes, one from Cabinet Specialties for $3,332.00 and one from Mullet Cabinet for $2,025.00. These quotes are several thousand dollars less than other vendors. The library will pursue final drawings and pricing from Mullet Cabinet.

FISCAL OFFICER’S REPORT
The Public Library Fund tax distribution for the month of September for the Barberton Public Library was $79,922.97.

Moved by Doll, seconded by McMullen to accept the financial report, bank reconciliations and bills paid for the month of August, 2017. Ayes: Doll, Genet, Masich, and McMullen. Nays: None. Motion carried.

Cornelius distributed the final audit report received from auditor Perry and Associates which was approved by the State Auditor. The audit report states in part “we did not identify any deficiencies in internal control that we consider material weakness”. The audit report also states in part, “The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance or other matters we must report under Government Auditing Standards”. A memo from the auditor himself stated that the experience of the Fiscal Officer and the well-organized documentation made his job very easy.
